As your personal stylist, I will remove the guesswork for how to dress in a style that is right for you. My goal is to discover with you a look you love that conveys who you are and makes getting dressed fun and effortless.

I offer several types of personal image consultant services, including

- Personal style consultation to identify the best looks for your body type
- Personal color analysis to determine your most flattering colors
- Wardrobe reviews to better utilize the clothes you own and identify items you might need
- Outfit coordination to create complete outfits for any occasion
- Personal shopper services to complete, update, or expand your wardrobe

Please review my FAQ, which provides insight into why using a personal style consultant could be right for you, and then contact me to schedule an appointment. I look forward to helping you find or enhance your personal style – a fun and gratifying experience that will boost your self-esteem and confidence.
